MESSAGE FROM THE HEADTEACHER

Dear Parents/Carers,

Congratulations to Charnai (see photo below) who is the first person to receive her Platinum Award for gaining 400 house points in the first half term! Charnai explained that she'd gained her house points through attending school every day, reading her books, completing her homework and generally working hard. Well done, Charnai, and keep up the great effort!

Next week, we are thinking about Anti-Bullying Week, and we will start off with 'Odd Socks Day' on Monday 10th. Odd Socks Day is a national event and marks the start of anti-bullying week and encourages us all to think about and celebrate differences, as well as promoting awareness against bullying. Therefore, all children are able to wear odd socks that day! We are also having an NSPCC assembly, and letters were emailed out this week to explain them. If you have not received one, please ask at the school office.

Have a lovely weekend.

Many thanks,

Jon Stevens.
